Projects

TheraFit

A MERN stack app that allows users to create and manage training plans and exercises with multimedia support. Users can log in, craft their ideal workout routine, upload images, paste links, and even include video URLs for enhanced guidance.

Portfolio

A personal website built from scratch using React and modern libraries, following best practices in web development. It features a responsive design with light and dark mode options, effectively showcasing my professional skills and projects.

Quizzle

A dynamic quiz app using a trivia API, offering a tailored quiz experience based on user preferences like question count, category, difficulty, and type. It provides an interactive way for users to test their knowledge, ensuring a fun learning environment.
